The ease of software deployment	For me, it's not simple and a bit troublesome. I need to organize the files and then upload them through a channel (OWA), otherwise I won't be able to use this software. I'm not proficient in computer operations and still need to spend time practicing.
Software Experience	At the beginning, due to my inability to use this software and inexperience in operating computers, I lost patience while studying. After practicing a few times, I gradually became proficient and began to like it. Apart from deploying AI models, the operations are simple and convenient, and the UI page is concise and functional, which I think is very efficient.
Suggestions	The deployment of AI models is somewhat difficult for many people, and intentionally learning model deployment can also waste time. If this problem can be solved, it will attract more people to use it.
